Maps Relating to the Current Situation in South Vietnam

18 November 1972

This map displays the southern portion of Vietnam, bordered by North Vietnam to the north, Laos to the west, and Cambodia to the south. The Gulf of Thailand is visible to the southwest. The map is overlaid with a grid showing latitude and longitude. Key geographical features include the Demarcation Line, the Tonle Sap, and the Mekong River. Numerous locations are marked with circles of varying sizes, representing military units or specific points of interest. These locations are distributed across several provinces, including Quang Tri, Quang Nam, Quang Tin, Quang Ngai, Binh Dinh, Pleiku, Phu Bon, and Phu Yen. Specific locations mentioned include Ben Quang, Vinh Linh, Dong Ha, Quang Tri, Muong Nong, Saravane, Chavane, Dak Sut, Dak To, Kon Tum, Pleiku, An Tu, Phu Cat, Qui Nhon, Song Cau, Dai Lanh, and Dai Nhat. The map also shows the borders of neighboring countries: North Vietnam, Laos, and Cambodia, as well as the Gulf of Thailand.
